

April 26th Virtual Train-the-Trainer: Telling Your Story for a Public Policy Purpose

Many family organizations support families to tell their story as part of professional development for doctors, nurses, teachers, and other service providers. But family stories are also powerful tools for informing health care policy decision making!

This virtual web-based train-the-trainer will prepare family organizations to support families to shape and tell their story to help make a public policy difference. A PowerPoint and guide in English and Spanish will be shared.

Presenter: Mercedes Rosa, Director of SPAN's Family-to-Family Health Information Center (F2F) and Family Leadership Development Coach for the National Center for Family Professional Partnerships.

April 26, 2018
2:00PM - 3:00PM ET

Register Now!

This webinar is primarily intended for family leaders but is open to all family organizations. Questions? Contact Bev Baker or Diana Autin.

"Great stories happen to those who can tell them" -Ira Glass