Meet best author Paul Daugherty and his daughter Jillian!

“Jillian Daugherty was born with Down syndrome. The day her parents brought her home from the hospital, they were flooded with worry and uncertainty but also with overwhelming love, which they channeled to “the job of building the better Jillian”. They knew their daughter had special needs, but they refused to have her grow up needy. They were resolved that Jillian’s potential would not be limited by the preconceptions of who she was or what she could be.”
